

Sharp Scratches - Finding Home

Sharp Scratches is a new writing night dedicated to injecting necessary medicine into theatre.

Submission Info:

As part of Beyond Borders at Theatre Deli, this night's theme is the refugee crisis we are facing in the UK. We want to receive writing about this to start a conversation.

Whether is your first script or poem, or your 100th - we want to hear from you.

Details:

- Short scripts or pieces of spoken word running no longer than 15 minutes. If you are sending a full script, you must indicate what section you are submitting. We do not have the time to read an entire script.
- Email them to sharpscratches@gmail.com with the title of the play/poem as the subject line. Include a short synopsis of the piece, and a short bio of yourself as a writer. Submissions with no body to the email will be discarded.
- Max 3 characters in the piece. (Unless you specify that multi-rolling is possible)
- Only applicants residing in the UK will be considered.

What happens if my script is chosen?

A team of readers will assess the scripts, and if it is shortlisted to the final eight it will be performed on the night by our team of actors! What are you waiting for?

Deadline: May 28th 3pm
